

Taylor Camany, Pro

Taylor grew up on the Monterey Peninsula of California, where it's pretty tough not to fall in love with the game of golf. She played collegiate golf at Santa Clara University and graduated from the School of Business in 2014. She was a top player all four years and Academic-All American. Just after graduation, Taylor turned pro and spent a few years on the Cactus Tour. Her professional career includes a win and many top 5 finishes.

After a few years playing professionally, Taylor was ready for a change of pace and started working at Yelp Inc. where she learned the ins and outs of sales. She loved the grind and competitive nature that sales offer, although her golf career always felt a little unfinished. Fast forward another three years, Taylor has found her home working with BackSwing as a Partner and Head of Sales – combining all of her passions every day. Having a career that impacts so many amazing charities and creates opportunity for other female professional golfers is a dream job.
